CITY TRUSTEES

Routine Business—Grade for Brand Boulevard—E. D. Goode Given Spur Track Privileges—Trustees will Favor Petitions for Annexation

All present except Mr. Grant. A long list of demands on the treasury were presented and referred; being principally on the electric light department. The report of the manager of the electric light department was received and filed. The city attorney was instructed to commence proceedings in the manner he thinks best to acquire title to that portion of Eagle Rock road along property of Dodge estate. The city engineer was instructed to recommend a grade for Brand boulevard from Doran street to Fifth street and also the intersection at First, Second, Third, Fourth and Fifth streets. A resolution was adopted giving notice of the municipal election to be held on April 11th next for election of three trustees and to decide the question whether trustees shall be paid for their services in that capacity at the rate of $3.00 each per meeting.

A resolution granting to E. D. Goode the right to operate a spur track for an electric railroad on a portion of Glendale avenue, was passed first and second reading. The following resolution by Trustees Blackburn was adopted:

"Whereas, There seems to be a sentiment growing in favor of annexation to our city of additional territory. "Resolved, That we, as a board of trustees, hold ourselves ready at any time to consider favorably any petition from any territory contiguous to our city limits asking for annexation."

The city clerk was instructed to communicate with the Eagle Rock Valley Improvement association and inform it that the city of Glendale can furnish the valley with electricity for lighting purposes by installing a meter and delivering the current at the easterly city boundary; or, in the event of annexation to the city, by direct service to the consumer. The supply committee recommended that the manager of the lighting department be authorized to buy a Studebaker wagon for use of the department at price of $175.00. The recommendation was adopted.

MASS MEETING—SHALL GLENDALE CELEBRATE?

A public meeting of the citizens of Glendale is hereby called to assemble at the high school auditorium at 8 o'clock sharp next Friday evening, March 18th, to discuss the proposed celebration of the completion of Glendale's electric light system. This meeting is to determine whether or not such a celebration shall be held and if it is to take place, to discuss ways and means and general details. Everybody come!

By Order of the Committee.

BOARD OF TRADE.

Members take notice! There will be a special meeting held Thursday evening, March 17th, 1910, at the city hall. Matters of importance to come up.

J. M. BANKER, Secy.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE EXHIBIT

The committee in charge of the Chamber of Commerce Exhibition, to be held April 12th and 13th, in Filger's Opera House, reports all space taken and many exceedingly pretty booths planned. The object of this undertaking is two-fold—the advertisement of Glendale and funds for the Ladies' Tuesday Afternoon Club House. That it will prove a good advertising scheme is well recognized as several Los Angeles firms have asked for space, but as only Glendale business organizations are to be allowed to exhibit they could not be accommodated. There will be nothing sold except ice cream and candy, which the club ladies will serve. A twenty-five cent admission fee will be charged. The two front rooms on the same floor as the opera house have been arranged for, and will hold the art exhibits, which alone will be well worth the admission fee. Mr. Valentine will furnish music the evening of the twelfth and the schools will give us something well worth hearing the second evening.

OUTRAGEOUS ASSAULT AND ROBBERY.

Mrs. W. H. Thompson, residing on the San Fernando road about a mile south of Burbank, was assaulted last Saturday afternoon while alone in her house by a masked man who beat her with a revolver, tied her and locked her in a closet while he went through the house, securing about thirty dollars in money. The lady's son returned some time afterwards and found her. The lady is quite seriously injured, but will probably soon recover. Officers have been looking for the miscreant who committed the assault but without success.

WEST GLENDALE

WEST GLENDALE SCHOOL NOTES.

The Parent-Teachers' association gave a silver tea on Thursday last at the home of Mrs. Thomas Thornton. During the afternoon a very interesting musical and literary program was rendered. Violin solos by Julius Kranz, and a reading by Mrs. Padelford was very much appreciated by all, as was also the piano selections rendered, on Mrs. Thornton's elegant new grand piano. The proceeds of the afternoon went toward the fund for furnishings of the office of the school.

The regular meeting of the association will be held this afternoon at the school. A very interesting program has been arranged consisting of music, both vocal and instrumental. Mrs. Hojping of Los Angeles will give an interesting talk on "scolding." Refreshments will be served. The public is cordially invited not only this afternoon but at any meeting.

Additions are being made to the athletic department of the school. The latest being a fine new croquet set, basket ball, balls and bats, etc. These were presented to the children by the trustees, a "friend" and the athletic club.

It is the intention of the trustees to install sanitary drinking fountains as soon as possible. There has been a marked increase in the scholars since the opening of the term. Four new ones came last week. If this continues it will necessitate the addition of at least two more teachers next term.

P. Miller in the death of her mother, Mrs. Dora Miller of Los Angeles. Miss Miller is the teacher of the Seventh and Eighth grades, and a number of her scholars, together with trustees and friends attended the funeral last Friday. Beautiful floral pieces were presented by the trustees and teachers and a handsome set piece by Miss Miller's pupils.

BICYCLIST ASSAULTED IN GLENDALE.

Last Sunday evening at about midnight, S. J. Jones, employe of the Sniff & Vandervort grocery at Tropico, was assaulted and knocked from his bicycle while riding along Jackson street near Fourth, by some one whose identity has not as yet been learned.

Mr. Jones, in company with a lady friend, had passed the evening in Los Angeles and had returned home on the 11:30 car. They went directly to the young lady's home and a short time later Jones started for his home at Tropico. While turning the corner of Jackson and Third streets, he could dimly see, through the heavy mist, a figure standing on the sidewalk. When he had gone several yards down Jackson street he heard some one call, "Wait a Minute." He started to slacken his pace and as he turned around to see who had called he was struck across the side of the head and forehead with a heavy instrument or sand bag.

Some time later the victim was found by a passerby and taken to a nearby residence and Dr. Chase was immediately summoned. By the time the physician had arrived the young man had regained consciousness. Medical aid was administered, but Mr. Jones was unable to return to his work until Wednesday morning.

Mr. Jones states that he did not know that he had an enemy in Glendale, but the person who did the assaulting was either mistaken in his man or he was taking out a personal grudge, for nothing was taken from Jones' pockets while he was unconscious.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

One of the most interesting meetings of this club was held last Tuesday afternoon at the Guild Hall when the members and their friends had the privilege of listening to Mrs. Lou V. Chapin of Pasadena who discoursed in a very interesting manner on current events.

The speaker is a well known lecturer on Current Events. Mrs. Chapin is a woman of strong personality, a close student of history and the affairs of the day. In American politics she touched on the present high prices of food, the so-called causes, and also gave the various remedies suggested. The acquirement of large tracts of land by fraud which was winked at by government officials and the present controversy between Ballinger and Pinchot were explained.

The announced intention of John D. Rockefeller to give away his millions gave the speaker occasion for a most scathing arraignment of the trusts. The political situation in England was explained very fully. Then followed a most masterly statement of the European situation of today. With map and pointer the speaker in words which held her hearers spell-bound, portrayed the isolation of Germany, her struggle to maintain her position, surrounded as she is by hatred and jealousy of her neighbors and menaced by the Dreadnaughts of England. It was a most instructive afternoon.

PRACTICAL CHRISTIANITY CENTER.

Meetings at 432 West Fourth street as follows:

Sunday school at 3 o'clock. Bible class giving spiritual interpretation of the International Sunday School lessons taught by Miss Suzanne Dean of Los Angeles.

Talks on vital truths of Christianity practically applied each Wednesday at 2:45 by Miss Eva Fulton of the Home of Truth, Los Angeles.

Library and free reading room open to the public Tuesdays and Fridays.

Mrs. Zona Maxson Fringey, healer and librarian, extends a welcome at all times to those seeking help or information.

"A LITTLE STORE WELL FILLED."

Mr. C. E. Shaver of Shaver Brothers store has for three days past been giving an object lesson illustrating his favorite motto quoted above. Ten demonstrators at as many tables have been kept busy serving up samples of the various products of the houses they represent, and from every point of view the exhibit has been a great success.

Capt. J. C. Guernsey of Belleville, Kas., visited during the past week his old friends, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Harrison of Fifth street.

THE SCHOOLS

STATE BOARDS COMBINE TO REFORM DRINKING HABITS OF CHILDREN.

The state board of health suggests sanitary drinking devices, and March 25th is named as the funeral day for common drinking cups in schools.

To observe a day for the smashing and burying of school common drinking cups is the latest proposal of the state board of health. The last Friday in March is the day suggested for a ceremonial day throughout the schools of the state. In an interview Secretary Snow says: "The object of the ceremonial is to do away with an old public school enemy and also to give the California children a lesson in sanitation and personal cleanliness that will never be forgotten. At home children eat and drink out of individual dishes that are washed in hot soapy water between usings; at school numbers of children drink from one cup that may not be washed once a year. When the bell rings for the close of recess a crowd of thirsty, perspiring youngsters rush to the common cup. Some of them may have sore lips, bad colds, incipient consumption, or be feverish from an infectious disease. Any of these undesirable conditions may become common property. In many instances schools are closed and lives are lost. I think that everyone who has children in school will breathe easier when the cups are underground."

HIGH SCHOOL.

Last Friday was Patrons' day at the high school and the building was open to the public. In the afternoon the regular class exercises were held, to which all visitors were welcome. Special work was given in the laboratories and in the gymnasium during the last period. An opportunity was given to many of the parents and friends to see the building. In the evening the following special program was given, the music winning special commendation:

School Song—"The Black and Red" Greetings, Mr. Geo. U. Moyses, principal; Mr. E. D. Goode, Secretary Violin Solo, (Svensden) Romance Julius Kranz
Remarks—Norman Marsh, Archt... Music—"Good Night, Beloved" "Poor Ned" "Boys' Quartet" Remarks—Mr. Mark Keppell, Supt. Music, (Brahms) "Hungarian Dance" Orchestra
"The Two Grenadiers" Shuman
"Crow Song" Boys' Glee Club
"My Love's Like a Red, Red Rose" Girls' Glee Club
"Pilgrim's Chorus" from Tannhauser Mixed Chorus and Orchestra

During the evening the Girls' Basket ball team as champions of the Suburban section of the Los Angeles county, presented a trophy, their banner, to the school. Miss McLean, their coach, in behalf of the athletic association, gave to the members of the team their emblems won during the year. The banner is a handsome decoration in the school colors, and the team is justly proud of the first trophy which a girls organization has won. Consistent practice and coaching in team work are responsible for the results. The boys have won two pennants this year, but they have not been awarded.

The Weaver's drill as presented in the gymnasium, Friday night, by sixteen girls, was a spectacle of much interest to the visitors. Miss McLean has adopted the plan of having different girls in each public performance so that as many as possible may become accustomed to appearing in public.

The last match on the old court was held last Saturday and resulted in a complete victory for Glendale over Azusa. This is the third victory, the team having previously defeated Gardena and Compton. The team was made up of Morrow, Davenport, Bourne and Benson.

The senior class has decided to give no class play this year and to make the commencement exercises as simple as possible. The class is to be commended for this stand.

The chemistry class under Miss Moore has been working on iron. On Thursday of this week a trip of inspection was made to the Union Iron Works in Los Angeles.

The senior latin class has presented to the school a panel of pictures of the latin play.

Miss Burdort of Fullerton high school was a visitor on Thursday of this week.

PARENT-TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

The meeting of the Parent-Teachers' association of the Sixth street grammar school held on the evening of March 4th, was a most enjoyable session. It was the first of the kind—having the fathers as well as the mothers and friends present—and was in every way a success.

The speaker of the evening, E. J. Likely, of the Brownsberger school of Los Angeles, gave a very interesting talk on "The Increase of Crime in the United States." During the evening a piano solo was rendered by Miss Emma Williams.

Mr. W. W. Lee and family of Los Angeles and Mr. Sam Byers and wife, who have been spending the winter at Long Beach, visited Mr. and Mrs. Ed M. Lee, Sunday last.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

Beginning with next week's issue (March 18th) the NEWS will be printed one day earlier in the week than heretofore, getting into the postoffice Thursday evening. The change is made for the benefit of subscribers on rural delivery routes, who have heretofore not received the paper until Monday, and to better serve our advertisers by enabling them to get better publicity for week-end events. Advertisers and correspondents please note that hereafter copy must be in by Wednesday afternoon to insure its publication in the paper which goes to press on Thursday.

THE PUBLISHER.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

In this week's issue of the News we commence the publication of a series of articles on Domestic Science by Edith G. Carlton, who conducts that department in the Iowa State college. The series consists of eighteen two-column articles, one of which will be published every week. These papers are bright, original suggestions based on experimental knowledge and we expect them to be highly appreciated by our lady readers who are ambitious to excel in their particular field of usefulness.

Now when everybody has a theory to account for the increased cost of living and figures can be obtained to prove that it is nearly a hundred per cent higher than it was a score of years ago, will some one please explain how it is that a meal of victuals can be obtained almost as cheaply now as then and that boarding houses and hotels have not made an advance of more than 25 per cent on their charges?

Colliers Weekly constantly keeps up its fight on Ballinger and is dealing that shining mark harder and still harder blows with each successive issue. The last number contains a story of Ballinger's actions in promoting a fraudulent enterprise in Alabama in 1888 by which a number of people were led to invest in worthless stock in a mill which he owned. The story is told so circumstantially that it compels belief; but if it is untrue, Mr. Ballinger certainly has a good chance to secure damages in a libel suit. Editorially Colliers says, referring to Ballinger: "He is constitutionally incapable, on any subject, of abiding by the truth."

Chicago ladies are justly indignant at the recent action of the city council there which has decreed that the long metal skewer with which they are accustomed to fasten on the popular hat stack cover that is used for a head protector, is a concealed dangerous weapon and must be suppressed. They argue that it is women's most approved weapon of defense and that it is protected by the constitution of the United States which says that "the rights of citizens to carry arms shall not be abridged." We shall watch subsequent developments with interest as we do not imagine for a moment that a little old-fashioned federal constitution is going to curb the reform tendencies of Chicago statesmen!

In the passing of Thomas C. Platt of New York from the stage of human action, the curtain is rung down on one of the greatest politicians that this country has produced. He attained supreme political power in the Empire state and reaching beyond that to a larger field, became one of the strongest forces in the political life of the nation. He did not shine in the senate of the United States in which he sat with the brilliant Conkling and voluntarily retired with him to private life when the breach with Garfield occurred, but as a dexterous manipulator of political combinations he had few equals. Notwithstanding a popular idea to the contrary, a strong political leader must be the possessor of at least one or two of the many virtues; he must primarily be a man of his word, and in the second place he must be above cherishing petty animosities. Platt possessed both of these virtues and others, and was altogether an unusually strong character who loved power and does not seem to have used it generally for an unworthy purpose.

WORTH NOTING.

Sixty-five years ago the social conditions were such in England, and laborers were so miserable, that as late as the autumn of 1842 eight of the largest counties in England and a large part of Scotland were in open insurrection. Lord Ashley said, in regard to a report then recently made, "The danger is wider, deeper, fiercer, and no one who has heard these statements and believes them can hope that twenty years more will pass without some mighty convulsion, some displacement, of the whole system of society." No such social upheaval came, but with many shiftings of equilibrium society kept its balance. Improvements were made, and a few of the worst evils were abolished. But the one most important conclusion forced upon the reformers of that time was that without moral training little could be done to improve the condition of the poor.—Christian Register.

THE "GREATER GLENDALE" SPIRIT GROWING.

The Glendale Improvement society met last evening in K. of P. hall to discuss the question of adding to the territory of the city of Glendale and other matters of local interest. A number of ladies were present and joined the association. Considerable enthusiasm was manifested over the subject of the annexation of territory to the city on the west and south, and a number of speeches were made along that line, nearly all of the speakers being heartily in favor of a "Greater Glendale." This movement is now well under way and will, no doubt, continue to be a live subject until it is put to a vote which will no doubt come to pass within a few months. The people of Glendale are quite well content with their experiment in self-government and believe that it is a good enough thing to share with their neighbors; while on the outside is a large population having before their eyes constantly an object lesson in the way of paved streets and (very soon) a system of electrical street lights, neither of which can be obtained without the municipal machinery.

The section west of Central avenue, is particularly in need of the benefits to be derived from becoming a part of the city territory, as it will not be long until the questions concerning roads, electric light and power, the water supply and fire protection will be of almost vital interest to it. No one can note the phenomenal growth of the territory around Glendale and Tropic without being impressed with the fact that population is drifting hither in a constantly increasing degree and that the community hereabouts should be welded together for the purpose of working harmoniously as one body for every object that stands for the advancement of our common interest. And this can only be accomplished through the machinery of a local government in which all the people are interested.

AN INTERESTING CASE.

In the Superior Court of Los Angeles on Tuesday last Judge Bordwell in ruling on demurrers gave a decision in favor of the Aguirre heirs who brought suit some seven years ago against Archbishop Rordan of San Francisco, Bishop Grace of Sacramento and Bishop Conaty of Los Angeles, charging them with wrongfully withholding from the plaintiffs the sum of $24,000 which the church owed to Jose Antonio Aguirre, their father, a benefactor of the Missions. The case is an interesting one, reaching back as it does to the early days when the church practically ruled in California and continuing up through a series of interesting chapters to the present time. In 1833 Mexico seized a large amount of money belonging to the church in California and it took a good many years and much diplomacy to get it back. The case was referred by The Hague tribunal to Sir Edward Thornton and decided by him in 1875 to the effect that Mexico pay the church the sum of $904,070.49, based on an inventory made by a certain Ramirez which gave recognition to the claim of Aguirre and showed that a Papal decree had been issued ordering its payment.

The bishops, however, did not pay, although the Aguirres importuned them to do so all through the period between 1877 and 1890.

The bishops denied the obligation, but proposed to buy the claims for the sum of $5500, asserting that in any event the amount of the claim could not exceed $9000. This proposition the Aguirres accepted in January, 1880, being unaware that the claim had been recognized in the Ramirez inventory or had been ordered by the pope to be paid. Learning later of these two facts, they brought suit with the re-suit as announced.

The judge in his decision says that the bishops were "at all times informed of the papal bull and the Ramirez inventory" and in commenting on the plea of the defendants that the statute of limitations had run against the claim, says, "None can plead the statute of limitations when delay has been his own fault."

The case now goes to trial on its merits.

SOMEWHAT POLITICAL.

Assemblyman Drew of Fresno challenges Hon. P. A. Stanton of Los Angeles to debate the Japanese question with him. Mr. Drew was once a legislator of good repute but the anti-Japanese virus got into his blood and spoiled his usefulness to a great extent. He ought to have learned by this time that there is no "Japanese question," however much the agitation of the subject may be desired by a certain element in San Francisco that wants an "issue." Recalling the fact that Mr. Stanton, as speaker of the assembly a little over a year ago, carried out the wishes of President Roosevelt and squelched the noisy agitators in the legislature who were doing their best to make trouble between the United States and a friendly nation, we feel that he is deserving of a certain measure of appreciation whether we support his candidacy for governor or not.

Speaking of the candidates for governor, there are now four Republican aspirants for the nomination for that office: Chas. F. Curry, now secretary of state; Alden Anderson, the superintendent of banking; Hiram Johnston, a San Francisco lawyer, and Philip A. Stanton of Los Angeles. So there are three aspirants from the North against the one from the South. Curry is a dyed-in-the-wool politician, undoubtedly acceptable to the Southern Pacific Railroad company. Anderson has been lieutenant governor of the state, is a successful business man of good reputation, and while occupying the second highest position in the state conducted the business of the state senate in a manner that gave no particular offense to the railroad company. Johnston is a successful lawyer and the best talker of the four, and has been selected by the leaders of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league as their candidate. He has no particular record before the people.

Stanton has been in the legislature for several years and although known as an "organization" man, has been generally more independent than his colleagues; this was shown in his support of Pardee at the Santa Cruz convention and upon other occasions. He is a successful real estate dealer. Theodore Bell is the most prominent among Democratic possibilities and has a good reputation, although his record is more in the nature of words than of acts. If nominated he will make a loud "anti railroad" campaign, but there are those who say that the railroad people do not look upon him with disfavor.

There is no doubt but that in giving their support to a Northern man, the Lincoln-Roosevelt committee received from the representatives of that organization in the North a promise to support a candidate for senator from the South whom they will ultimately name for that high position to succeed Senator Flint. Southern California may be full of undeveloped statesmen, but they modestly refrain from thrusting themselves into the limelight, and there are none of them in public view whose experience in public office is such as to suggest their elevation to the United States senate. Lee Gates has been spoken of in this connection, but it is doubtful if his name would arouse enthusiasm in any quarter. Former state senator, Robert N. Bulla, who was once before a candidate before the legislature and whose character and ability might commend him to the people, may possibly be selected, but it is doubtful if he cares to re-enter political life. Altogether the political situation is mixed as yet and possesses interest.

LOCAL POLITICS.

Up to the present time petitions have been filed for the following named aspirants for the office of trustee: Messrs. Lane, Coker, Shropshire, White, Brockman. The name of Mr. C. L. Wallace of 111 Cedar street, has also been suggested and his petition may be filed before the time limit expires. City Marshal Miller is not to have a walk-over, as Mr. Richard Pierce has also been nominated by the "Citizens Party" for marshal. The latter named party, assembled at Hotel Glendale Friday evening of last week and made up the following ticket:

For city trustee, two-year term, L. E. Brockman; four-year term, J. P. Shropshire; four-year term, J. R. White, jr.

For city clerk, Geo. B. Woodberry; city tax collector, H. G. Doolin; city marshal, Richard Pierce.

Regret is very generally expressed that Mr. T. W. Doyle will not stand for renomination and election, as he is conceded to be an efficient and courteous public official, and a new man can scarcely succeed in the beginning in giving such general satisfaction. Interest does not as yet run very high, but will no doubt rise to a proper temperature before April 11th.

THE "GOOD ROADS" WORK.

In the contract advertised to be let by the board of supervisors for a portion of the county highway system, is a portion of the boulevard connecting Glendale and Pasadena via Eagle Rock. This section consists of a stretch of 9347 feet extending eastward from Glendale city limits, on Sixth street. This takes it to Mountain avenue near the Annandale Golf grounds and a short distance from Pasadena city limits. There are two propositions for bridging the Arroyo Seco and as the bridge will mostly be in Pasadena territory, that city and the county must now get together and decide which of two plans for a bridge will be adopted.

One plan is for a high viaduct which would make the road east from Mountain avenue almost level; the other is for a lower bridge on easy grade. Specifications include a high viaduct or reinforced concrete, 240 feet long at Sycamore Canyon near Eagle Rock.

Your Checks are Receipts

"Pay as you go" is an excellent maxim provided you "pay-by-check." It's foolish to carry money on the person, except for the smallest purchases and incidentals, for aside from the care and inconvenience there is always the danger of theft or loss.

But with a check-book of this bank in your pocket the inconvenience and worry is eliminated. You write out a check for the exact amount of each purchase, your check-stub is a record for reference and the check itself will later be returned to you by the bank and may be retained as a receipt.

Some persons may think of the check account as being complicated. Nothing could be more simple, however. We keep books for you and there is a record for your every transaction.

Not Guilty.

A very dignified and precise lady who lives in a suburb of Boston went away from home on a fortnight's visit to some relatives not long ago. After her return she was making an inspection of her house and came across a number of large, black, empty bottles in a corner of the cellar, partly covered with ashes. When, at the conclusion of banking hours, her husband came back from Boston, she met him at the door with the query, "Jim, where did all those empty bottles down cellar come from?"

Affecting an air of puzzled surprise, the honest man replied: "I'm sure I don't know, my dear. I never bought an empty bottle in my life."

True Nobleness.

"For this true nobleness I seek in vain, In woman and in man I find it not; I almost weary of my earthly lot, My life springs are dried up with burning pain."

Thou findst it not? I pray thee look again, Look inward through the depths of thine own soul.

How is it with thee? Art thou sound and whole? Doth narrow search show thee no earthly stain?

Be noble, and the nobleness that lies In other men, sleeping, but never dead, Will rise in majesty to meet thine own. Then wilt thou see it gleam in many eyes, Then will pure light around thy path be shed, And thou wilt never more be sad and lone. —Lowell.

Out of Sight of Land.

"Yes," said a traveling man, "I was once out of sight of land on the Atlantic ocean twenty-one days."

There was a small sized crowd sitting around. Another man spoke up.

"On the Pacific ocean one time I didn't see land for twenty-nine days."

A little baldheaded man knocked the ashes from his cigar.

"I started across the Kaw river at Topeka in a skiff once," he said, "and was out of sight of land before I reached the other side."

"Aw, come off," said the man who had told the first tale. "The Kaw isn't more than 300 feet wide at Topeka."

"I didn't say it was," said the little baldheaded man quietly. "The skiff turned over, and I sank twice." —Denver Post.

Helping Out the Clerk.

An honest farmer from south Jersey who was unusually ignorant of city ways went to a fashionable hotel in Philadelphia with his son. The father retired early, but the son went out to "see the town." At 12:30 o'clock the father went downstairs and inquired of the night clerk if the boy had returned yet. He was told that he had not. The father went back to his room. An hour later he again appeared before the clerk and said, "Hain't Jack in yet?" Again he was informed that the lad was out.

The old man made several subsequent trips, and still his boy was among the missing. Finally at 3:30 o'clock the father trudged wearily down the stairs and asked again if his boy had returned. "No; he's not in yet," replied the night clerk.

"Waal, I guess he won't come in, then. Guess you needn't wait up any longer."

Puzzled.

He had courted her for years, never missing his evening call, and finally was landed. On the day of the marriage a friend observed the bridegroom wandering about his new front yard in a restless manner, and with a very dejected expression. "Why, what's the matter, old man?" he asked. "You should be the happiest man alive, for today at least, and you look like a mute at a funeral."

The bridegroom started. "Er—of course I am very happy," he asserted. "Then why these glooms?"

"Well, to tell you the truth, BIL," the bridegroom said in a burst of confidence, "I was just wondering where I am to spend my evenings hereafter."

A Shock For Shaw.

Bernard Shaw some years ago met a young lady at a dinner party who said that she could read character from writing. Mr. Shaw denied belief in her powers and said that at any rate she could not read characters from typewriting.

Now, it happened that the host had just got a typewriter, and the young lady offered to be put to the test. The machine was brought, and Mr. Shaw, picking out the letters one by one, wrote his first name. Then he discovered that he had used only capital letters. So, shifting to the lower case, he wrote his last name.

Then he handed the result to his companion. This was what she read: "BERNARD shaw."

"It's as plain as anything," she said, with a smile. "It is your idea that, though there are a good many Shaws in the world, they are an undistinguished lot. You alone are Bernard Shaw, and your name is great."

The Best Way.

Dr. Wood of Harrow once summoned a boy to his presence to rebuke him for missing a battalion drill. The doctor began: "Do you know, sir, that as a justice of the peace I can have you hung, as honorary colonel of the cadet corps I can have you shot and as your headmaster I can have you birched? Now, which sentence do you prefer?" The humor of the situation overcame the culprit's awe. "I prefer to be shot, sir, because then you will surely be hanged."

GLENDAL, CAL., MARCH 12, 1910

In Perfect Accord.

Some years ago there came to an American city a delightful German, Herr von Blitz, who intended to support himself by giving lessons in his native tongue. When he had been here several months and had secured a moderate number of pupils he went one day to the mother of one of them and to her great surprise asked for her daughter's hand in marriage.

"But, my dear sir," said she, "my daughter has no fortune."

The suitor smiled upon her in an expansive generosity.

"Me, too," said he reassuringly.

"And, although we are not rich, we have thus far been able to give her every comfort. She is indeed used to luxury."

"Me, too," was the smiling rejoinder.

"But, Herr von Blitz, she will never be able to manage affairs."

"Me, too," rejoined the lover.

"And I feel obliged to tell you that my daughter has a very high temper."

"Me too—me too."

That was enough. The mother retired from the contest, and the professor won his suit.

Quick Justice at Ascot.

Not only the horses, but the powers of the law, says the London Chronicle, are swift at Ascot, for the course has a special tribunal for the punishment of evildoers. No sooner is the pick-pocket, welsheer or ticket snatcher arrested than he is standing in a little room in the royal stand, where the evidence is heard and the verdict and sentence pronounced before the offender fully realizes that he is caught. No where else does punishment so swiftly follow crime as at this court, which is decreed by clause 31 of the indictable offenses act of 1848.

This race course tribunal arose curiously in the eighteenth century from an assault upon a royal personage. In his indignation at the impossibility of instant punishment of the assailant he ordered that in future a magistrate should always attend the royal race meeting. This has ever since been done, and by the above mentioned act the chief magistrate of Bow street was constituted ex officio a justice of the peace of the county of Berks in order to enable him to hold this court at Ascot.

Natural Age of Man.

The question as to what is the natural age of man is by no means settled, of course, but many are of the opinion that the Frenchman Flourens was not far out of the way in his estimate of the time a man should live. Taking his observations from the group mammalia, of the class vertebrata, as having the closest resemblance to man and such species as are permitted to live the full term of their natural life under circumstances not admitting of error or doubt, Flourens found that their natural life extended to about five times the period of their lives from birth up to maturity. Applying the rule thus obtained to human life and taking the age at which the body is fully matured to be twenty years, he concluded the natural duration of the life of man to be 100 years.—New York American.

The Word "Canvassing."

How "canvassing" got its election significance is one of the unsolved puzzles of etymology. The word appears originally to have meant tossing in a canvas or blanket and thence generally misreading or assaulting. "I'll canvass thee in thy broad cardinal's hat," is the Duke of Gloucester's threat to the bishop of Winchester in "King Henry VI." The next stage of meaning was that of destructive criticism, from which to thorough discussion—"canvassing" a subject—was simple enough. But how exactly did it arrive at the election sense? Dr. Johnson explained that the term meant "trying votes previously to the decision" and derived it from "canvass," as it signifies a sieve. The Oxford Dictionary, however, is unable to find this use of the word.

Jerusalem.

Old Uncle Jasper was buying a postcard in a New Orleans postoffice when a gentleman approaching the next window had a small parcel weighed and stamped for Jerusalem. On this gentleman's departure Uncle Jasper chuckled and said:

"He was jokin', wasn't he?"

"Not at all," returned the clerk.

"My, oh, my!" cried Uncle Jasper in an awed tone. "Is it possible ye take letters to Jerusalem? I thought it was above!"

Acute Heart Trouble.

"Yes, I remember him," said Alkali Ike. "He died very sudden."

"Heart disease?" asked the eastern tourist.

"Waal, now, I don't know as you kin say it was the heart any more'n the club, spade or diamond. Anyway, he dealt himself four aces."—Philadelphia Press.

One Way.

Gentleman (hiring a valet)—Then I understand you have some knowledge of barbering. You've cut hair off and on? Applicant—Oh, sir, but never on.—Boston Standard.

Hardly.

Hewitt—You should make hay while the sun shines. Jewett—I can't if I stick to my business of making umbrellas.—New York Press.

Guiltless.

Barber—Hair getting thin, sir. Ever tried on hair preparation, sir? Customer—No, I can't blame it on that.—Boston Transcript.

The Crush.

It was at an afternoon tea, with the usual musical accompaniment. The man's man had been literally dragged there, an unwilling victim, by a zealous friend who liked afternoon teas with a musical accompaniment. Needless to say, the zealous friend was a ladies' man.

The man's man was very unhappy. He had sulked and had positively refused to be introduced to the bevy of charming girls presiding at the tea tables, much to the chagrin of the ladies' man, who naturally couldn't understand the attitude of the man's man. It was inexorable, from his point of view. But a ray of hope glimmered in his breast when the man's man rushed up to him, exclaiming:

"I say, old fellow, introduce me to the fat lady sitting over in the corner, will you?"

The eyes of the ladies' man glistened.

"With the greatest pleasure," he cried. "Have you got a crush on her?"

"No," replied the man's man savagely. "I should say it was quite the other way. She's sitting on my hat!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

He Saw More Lights.

In one of the hotels recently some new electric lights were put in use in a decorative way. A young man who lives on the hill happened in during the evening and noticed the lights.

"They're very nice," he said to the head waiter, "but why didn't you put up more?"

The head waiter, knowing the young man's fondness for articles enumerated on the wine list, replied, "I think you'll see more of them before you leave, Mr. So-and-so."

The young man remained in the cafe a couple of hours and imbibed rather freely of liquid refreshments. When he got ready to leave he sought the head waiter.

"Much obliged to you," he said. "Did you put the extra ones in fr me?"

"Certainly," replied the head waiter, bowing.

The young man left the hotel feeling greatly honored.—Denver Post.

Suppressing Swearing.

Profane as well as lewd oaths have been the subject of many parliamentary measures in England. No fewer than five separate bills having the prevention of swearing for their object were presented during the reign of James I., but it was not until 1623 that an enactment was finally carried defining and controlling the offense.

In 1635 a public department was established to collect the fines enforced by this law. The officials of this department, of whom one was appointed in every parish, were allowed 2s. 6d. in the pound on the money thus collected, and the balance was paid over to the bishop for the benefit of the deserving poor. These penalties ceased to be enforced after the restoration, but were revived by a statute of William and Mary and still further increased under George II.—London Scraps.

Fire.

Max Beerbohm's book "Yet Again" opens with the essay on "Fire."

"Fire in my grate," he writes, "is as terrible a thing as when it was lit by my ancestors night after night at the mouths of their caves to scare away the ancestors of my dog. And my dog regards it with the old wonder and misgiving. Even in his sleep he opens ever and again one eye to see that we are in no danger. And the fire glowers and roars through its bars at him with the scorn that a wild beast must needs have for a tame one. 'You are free,' it rages, 'and yet you do not spring at that man's throat and tear him limb from limb and make a meal of him.' And, gazing at me, it licks its red lips, and I, laughing good humoredly, rise and give the monster a shoveful of its proper food, which it leaps at and noisily devours."

The First Pantomime.

The first pantomime introduced to the English stage was "Tavern Bickers" and was by John Weaver. This was in the year 1702. It was produced at Drury Lane. The great instigator of pantomime in England was, however, John Rice, who devised this form of entertainment in 1717. His first emphatic success was in 1724, when he produced "The Necromancer; or, History of Dr. Faustus." So successful was Rice with his pantomimes that Garrick, Quin and others became exasperated. Rice lived to see pantomimes firmly established at Drury Lane and Covent Garden. He died in 1781.—London Stage.

Not a Bouncer.

"Mother," said a six-year-old hopeful, "isn't it funny that everybody calls little brother a bouncing baby?"

"Why do you think it's funny, Willie?" remarked his mother.

"Because when I dropped him on the floor this morning he didn't bounce a bit. He only hollered."

Home Course In Domestic Science

I.—The Scope of Domestic Science.

By EDITH G. CHARLTON.

In Charge of Domestic Economy, Iowa State College.

Copyright, 1910, by American Press Association.

THE purpose of this series of articles will be an attempt to show the direct relation between domestic science and ordinary affairs in the life of either men or women. Too many people have conceived the idea that domestic science chiefly concerns those people who have more time for theorizing than for actual work. These think the subject deals largely with air castles of the Bellamy style of architecture and contains little real help for present day homemakers. There are some who still hold the opinion that such is the meaning and scope of domestic science, but their number is rapidly decreasing on account of the introduction of the study of scientific homemaking into public schools, high schools and colleges. To be an aid to housekeepers who cannot take advantage of these courses of study as prescribed in schools and colleges is the aim of this series of talks.

One of the chief purposes of domestic science is to teach men and women how to live rightly, how to use material things in such a way as to get the highest good, the best results, from them. The science concerns men quite as much as women, and it means much more than the commonly accepted idea that it has most to do with cooking and eating and washing dishes. These things are of course included in the study and, I assure you, that even these exceedingly common affairs of life are deserving of a higher place in the wonderful process of living, than is usually accorded them.

Life is a serious business, and nothing which pertains to it is either a joke or a trifle. Therefore anything which helps to give even the commonest things their true importance and assists men and women to be better mentally and physically is worthy due consideration and a fair trial from every individual. So, while these talks concern the housekeeper more closely perhaps than they do men, the latter are not exempt from at least an honest interest in their subject matter.

Those who have anything to do with stock know how important it is that the animals be properly fed in order that they may be suitable for their special purpose. Men give a great deal of study to the different methods of feeding cows and pigs. They talk wisely about whether it is better to feed corn or peas for fattening purposes. They are careful, too, to see that the soil on which the apple orchard is planted contains the proper elements to make strong, productive trees. But when it comes to the daily bill of fare for human beings the average man and woman give it very little thought. At least it is the common rule to eat what is set before us or what our fancy and appetite suggest, until we have so long disregarded the laws of nature that our digestive organs rebel, and we can't eat even the plainest food without discomfort.

It is a fact that the average person knows less about his own anatomy and the functions of his body than about almost any other subject. Think for a moment of the many noted men who are laid aside in early middle life because their digestive organs are worn out. And no wonder they refuse to perform their duties! We wouldn't treat a thrashing machine as we treat ourselves and not expect the machine to be good for nothing inside six months. The illustration is more nearly parallel with the case than perhaps you think. The man feeds his engine with coal and wood in order to get energy from it. He also expects to get energy, growth and continued life from his food; at least that is the true reason why he eats. Yet how many men and women are there who from an ordinary bill of fare can select the foods which build tissue—make brain and blood—and which are most suitable for the production of heat and energy?

EDITH G. CHARLTON

The selection of food for the table in order that it may be truly nourishing and may yield the necessary material for growth is one of woman's greatest tasks. To be the maker of a home from which strong men and women shall go forth to build and keep a nation powerful and united is the highest task given to human beings. This is woman's true work. Is she honestly equipped and trained for it?

The Task of Homemaking.

Woman's share in the well being of the family demands not only an intelligent knowledge of the principles of her work, but also interest and enthusiasm in it. To be a really successful housekeeper a woman must be an enthusiastic housekeeper. Very few, if any, men have achieved success in any work to which they have given only part of their thought and aiggardly share of their enthusiasm. I believe that the largest per cent of unsuccessful housekeepers is always found among the women who are either doing their work ignorantly and according to somebody's tradition or because their interest and enthusiasm are given to some other person's work. Why is the opinion so general among both men and women that housekeeping requires a little less intelligence than almost any other kind of work? Why is it that the most incompetent person is the one who generally offers her services in domestic work? "She would do better in some one's kitchen" is the remark very often made of the unsuccessful woman.

What a Housekeeper Should Know.

It requires just as much brains to keep a house as it should be kept as it does to perform any other kind of work. It requires just as much knowledge and energy to make a home which truly fulfills all the term implies as it does to engage in any other industry. And no other work demands quite as much of the whole hearted interest, the real person, as does homemaking. One good reason why there are so many indifferently managed homes is because housekeeping in general has not as yet been put on the same plane as other industries. One reason why so many women are needlessly wearing themselves out in their task of providing food and shelter for their families is because of lack of knowledge of the fundamental principles of their work. Lack of training and practical education is responsible for many housekeeping failures. A woman said to me: "I cook for my family because I must, not because I have any interest in the art, for I thoroughly dislike it." "Are you a good cook?" I said. "No, I am not," was the answer. "If I am ever successful it is due to luck more than skill, because I really know nothing about the science of it, and, after years of experience, I simply can't get interested in it." Unless this woman is quite unlike the rest of humanity, her dislike can be traced to her failures, for no one dislikes to do that which he can do really well—just a little better perhaps than any one else. The woman who finds pleasure in making bread is generally the woman who has won the blue ribbon at the county fair and who has a reputation for being the best breadmaker in the township. She knows something about yeasts and flour, understands the proper temperature for breadmaking, and finds her task a pleasure because she has had sufficient interest in it to become familiar with its science.

The housekeeper's work, if properly performed, gives regular exercise to all her faculties. If she understands, as she should, the effect of heat and cold upon food materials, upon liquids and solids, she will have a working knowledge of physics. If she knows something about digestion and personal hygiene she will not be a stranger to the study of physiology. Her intelligent handling of acids, alkalis and the treatment of the different fabrics in the laundry will necessitate a familiarity with chemistry. If she understands the scientific side of canning and preserving and the preservation of food by other methods, as well as the processes of cheesemaking, sterilizing, etc., she will be on familiar terms with household bacteriology. If she does not understand these simple truths, so closely related to her work, ignorance of them naturally presupposes working in the dark.

The Well Rounded Life.

The aim of life should not be to spend all the effort of our days in working simply to satisfy the physical needs of the body without any thought for mental development. True it is that a sound mind is usually found in a sound body, but it is also true that an empty head, like an empty stomach, is equally susceptible to poison. Where all thought and effort are given to acquiring wealth, winning social or political position without taking into account the other side of life—the side which means the right attitude toward the world, our neighbors and ourselves—a great deal of true living has been overlooked and missed.

HALLS MERCANTILE AGENCY

The business men of Glendale and Tropic have banded together in an organization known as the Hall Mercantile Agency. Although but a few months have elapsed since the organization has been perfected, yet the results are already quite apparent, and are proving to be satisfactory beyond the most sanguine expectations of both its organizer and of the members.

At present this organization embraces Glendale, Alhambra, San Gabriel, Dolgeville, Whittier, Hollywood, South Pasadena, Monrovia, Azusa, Glendale and a portion of Los Angeles.

Secretary J. N. Hall, to whose untiring efforts the good work is largely due, is to be heartily congratulated on the success which has been crowning his efforts. It has taken a vast amount of good hard work to bring this state of affairs to pass, but Secretary Hall is just that kind of an individual, and does not hesitate to tackle any proposition if it is at all feasible. He is highly gratified with the hearty co-operation of the business men of this city, and of each locality mentioned, where he has been putting forth his best efforts. Indeed, the business men do not hesitate to tell him that they are finding the credit conditions fully 50 per cent better than they were just prior to the launching of this new mercantile agency. It is having a far-reaching influence upon the community and has a tendency to protect the business man from designing individuals, and to bring about a better understanding between dealers and patrons for mutual protection.

TROPICO

Born to Mr. and Mrs. George Howe of Laurel street, Monday, a son.

Mrs. J. R. Bixby, of Corning, Iowa, was the guest of Mrs. Martha Winne the past week.

W. G. Black made a business trip to Baldwin Park last Thursday. He returned the same day.

Mrs. Richard Hunter has been spending the week as the guest of her mother, Mrs. J. S. Pollock.

Mrs. Parratt, who has been visiting a sister in the North for several weeks, returned to her home at this place last night on a late train.

Mr. Leyden Webb and mother, Mrs. Mary Webb of Garvanza, were the over-Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maxwell of Park avenue.

Thomas J. Webster, who has been spending the past six months at his ranch in Oklahoma, returned to Tropic Friday, and is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Alfred Engelhardt.

Mrs. Stella Boynton, who has been visiting her sister, Mrs. James R. Maxwell, while visiting Southern California, has returned to Los Angeles, preparatory to returning to Colorado Springs.

Several Tropic ladies surprised Mrs. Turck at her home on Glendale avenue last Monday afternoon. After the effects of the surprise had passed away the time was very pleasantly spent in bridge.

W. C. Calhoun and soon Will Calhoun of Denver, Colo., who have been visiting Southern California the past month and been the guests of J. B. Hickman at Palm Villa, returned home Friday stopping en route at El Paso.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gathers, formerly of this place, but who for the past few months have been living at Richmond, Cal., have returned to this place and will reside permanently in their little home on Cypress avenue.

Mrs. Anna Albertson, accompanied by her sister and brother-in-law, arrived in Tropic last night from Columbus, Wis., to pass some time with Mr. and Mrs. Winebrenner at their new home on Park avenue. This is the first meeting in 36 years of Mr. Winebrenner and his sisters. The visitors will remain in Tropic indefinitely.

TROPICO PRESBYTERIAN ITEMS. "The Heart's Washday," will be the subject at the morning preaching service at this church tomorrow.

Prayer meeting was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Richardson, corner Cypress and Central avenues, Wednesday evening.

The Y. P. S. C. E. held their monthly business meeting and social at the church Friday of this week.

The Ladies' Aid has improved the church by putting in a sink and a fine new cupboard in the primary room of the Sunday school.

All of our members are looking forward to the annual meeting and banquet which will be held in the church parlors the evening of the last Wednesday in March. Every member and supporter of the church is invited to attend.

MRS. E. B. ELLIAS ENTERTAINS. At her home on the corner of Tropic avenue and Brand boulevard Mrs. E. B. Ellias entertained a number of friends complimentary to Mrs. William Doust of Spokane, Wash., who is passing some time with Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler of Cypress avenue.

The home and table was prettily decorated with an abundance of lavender and white flowers and covers were set for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Chandler, Mrs. L. O. Chandler, Mrs. E. H. Weston, Miss Bessie Chandler, Mrs. A. L. Chandler, Mrs. William Doust and Mrs. Charles Peckham, who arrived from the East last Saturday evening.

TROPICO METHODIST GLEANINGS. A meeting of the Fourth department of the Epworth league of this church met at the home of Miss Fannie Marple, chairman of the committee, at the corner of Park avenue and the boulevard, Tuesday evening. At this meeting arrangements were completed for a social event which the league intends giving in the G. A. R. hall in the near future.

At the preaching next Sunday morning, Joseph Marple, Jr., will be in charge of a large chorus choir and will also sing a solo. The preaching will be as usual both morning and evening. In the evening a large orchestra will be present to assist with the music. Several musicians from Los Angeles are expected to be present.

Every member of the Sunday school is urged to be present at the Sunday school service tomorrow promptly at 9:45, as there will be a surprise for the pupils at this service.

PARENT TEACHER ASSOCIATION. The Parent-Teacher Association held the monthly meeting at the Tropic school Friday afternoon. Miss May Hunter, secretary, reported $35 in the treasury towards the purchasing of the hygienic drinking fountain to be installed in the school building.

The handsome picture, "The Dutch Windmill," was awarded to Miss Freda Bortwick's room as the largest percentage of mothers and friends of her pupils were noted present.

The pupils of Miss Ingraham's room gave several primary motion songs, after which the pupils of Miss Borthick's room entered and rendered several vocal selections.

Dr. L. M. Termann of the State Normal school, gave a most interesting and comprehensive talk on the co-operation of home and school.

Mrs. Martha McClure, principal, gave an instructive talk on proper luncheons for pupils. Brief talks were made by a number of mothers on the relation of the school, the home and the pupil. On suitable luncheons, and other interesting and vital subjects.

MR. WINEBRENNER'S HOME COMPLETED.

The finishing touches are being put on the beautiful new home of Mr. Winebrenner on Park avenue in the Ayers tract, and the owner and his family have taken possession.

The home is beautifully finished both inside and out. At the front part of the home are the living and dining rooms, each being 16x18 feet. In the living room is a cobbler stone mantel with tile hearth, while in the dining room a window seat occupied the entire length of the east side of the room with the exception of the space that is taken up by a built-in bookcase. Heavy pillars separate the two rooms, both of which are finished in golden oak, with beamed ceilings. Three bedrooms, 12x12 feet, occupy part of the west side and the south side of the home. The walls of these rooms are finished in Nile green with cream color ceilings. A large clothes closet is in each of these rooms.

The kitchen, 14x16, lies south of the dining room on the east side of the building. This room is fitted with numerous drawers and cupboards, cooling closet, hot water tank, etc. A large sink and sink board extend along the entire east side of the room. This room is finished with a five-foot paneling around the room finished in white enamel, with dark brown walls above and light brown ceiling. The home is wired for electricity.

Between the kitchen and the rear bedroom is the screen laundry. This room is 6x16 feet and is fitted with dryer, etc.

At the foot of the lot is a modern stable. The rear is laid out with granite walk-along either side, bordered with flowers, shade trees, etc., with a lawn extending the entire length of the lot. In the front yard are palms, roses, carnations and lawns.

SPORTING NEWS

In the track meet held at U. S. C. Saturday, March 5, between Stanford university and U. S. C., Munroe Walton took second place in the half mile run, making the fastest time (2:12.5) ever made in Southern California, and losing to Stanford by only one inch.

In the low hurdles, Richard Stine was a close second to Stanford. Time 2:3.5 sec.

Both these young men have won track honors for several seasons as students of the Glendale High school.

Well! Well! It seems that Glendale City can't lose. It met and defeated Colegrove team (formerly Title Guarantee & Trust Co.) 1 to 6 last Saturday before the biggest Saturday crowd of the season. It also defeated a few of the Glendale knockers who sat around rooting for the visiting team, finding fault with the umpire and our players in general, but Glendale City won in spite of that. Glendale is a loyal town and as a whole are supporting the team grandly and the few who care to make themselves disagreeable will find they or their money isn't wanted at these games with their continued crabbings at the umpire and players in general. Cut it out, men, and support the team and umpire properly and we will all enjoy the sport better. If the shoe fits, wear it.

Mr. Valentine presents as Glendale's guests this afternoon the Union Well Supply Co. of Los Angeles, and will furnish a double umpire system in order to give entire satisfaction. Following is the line-up for today:

Union Well Supply Co.	Glendale City
Husser	pitcher Benson
Freeman	catcher McNutt
Creed	first base Fakler
Miller	second base Sprinkle
Astley	third base Rice
Brown	shortstop Flores
Gamble	left field Emery
Otto	centerfield Hilliard
Whitehead	right field Askeland
	substitute Barrager

Game begins at 3 p. m. All turn out and keep our clean record of all games won.

REAL ESTATE.

Mr. Lucien Phillips, having sold his Los Angeles property, is building a residence on lots 27 and 28 of the Campbell tract on Milford street, having bought through Parker & Sternberg. The same firm has sold lots to Mr. Pigg and to Mr. Evans on Orange street between First and Second, both of whom will build. They have also sold a lot on the same street to Mr. Murray of Los Angeles.

The lot belonging to Mr. Godfrey, the Los Angeles restaurant man, on Fourth street, next to the corner lot on Glendale avenue, is being cleared off preparatory to the erection of a one-story brick building.

Tupper & Company report the sale of two lots in the Watson & Nelson tract, opposite the Fourth street grammar school, to Mrs. Moorman, who will build. They have also sold another lot in the same tract to Mrs. Lotta Burch of Los Angeles. They have a number of sales in process of completion and report the demand for acreage and large lots unabated.

Eagle Rock Improvement Meeting

The regular meeting of the Eagle Rock Improvement league was held in Symphony hall, Monday evening, March 7th. Mr. Edwards of the electric light committee reported that he had again interviewed the Pacific Light and Power company and was convinced that they would not come into the valley at this time unless the residents of the valley would shoulder the burden of the expense.

Col. Eddy of the boulevard committee reported that changes in the route of the boulevard had obstructed the work of the engineers, but that the engineering work was now finished, and the supervisors had ordered the contracts advertised for bids.

Mr. Bailey of the committee on car service reported that nothing had been accomplished but that the committee had an appointment with the railway company the following day and would report at the next meeting.

Mr. Bourne of the roads committee reported that several culverts had been repaired and steps had been taken toward having the streets sprinkled. The Eagle Rock Water company had agreed to furnish the water if the county would furnish the labor and it was thought that this could be arranged.

Mr. Lukenbach of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation outlined the proposition of bringing gas into the valley and stated that his company would furnish gas at city rates and wanted no bonus. The subject was discussed at considerable length and on motion the chair appointed Mr. Bourne and Mr. Mahouse a committee of two to assist the company's solicitor in gaining the signatures of those who might refuse to sign applications for gas.

On motion of Mr. Edwards the league was put on record as heartily endorsing the proposition of the Los Angeles Gas and Electric corporation.

CONCERNING LOCAL ORANGE SHIPMENTS.

During the past week the Washington navel orange season came in with a rush. Although some scattering fruit had been sent away during several weeks previous, it was not until this week that the season really opened. The Sparr packing company is sending away three cars this week, and the Edmund-Peycke Packing company, whose packing house is on the corner of Lomita and Glendale avenues, informed us that they also have shipped three cars this week.

The fruit which the Sparr people are packing is coming from the company's ranches in La Canada and from the large ranch in North Glendale, while the oranges being sent out by the Edmund-Peycke is being brought here from Altadena, being sent here in boxes unpacked.

All of the fruit is of the finest quality and the season bids fair to being one of the most profitable the valley has known for a long time.

Lemons are being shipped from the packing houses at the rate of about one car each week. The local growers and shippers are holding back the fruit with the hope that in a short time better prices will prevail.

A grocery solicitor is an expensive luxury. If you don't believe it, call us. Sunset 911, Home 1134, and we will prove it. J. N. Sanborn, cash grocery, Glendale Bank building, Fourth and Glendale avenue.

DEATH FROM AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENT.

Mr. Albert McDonald who resided at 324 West Ninth street, Glendale, and conducted a flower store at the corner of Seventh and Hill streets, Los Angeles, was run down by an automobile belonging to the Woolwine Motor Co. last Sunday evening last, while crossing Seventh street near his store. He was taken to a hospital where he died from his injuries Tuesday afternoon. A coroner's jury declared that his death was caused by "careless driving." Mr. McDonald was 65 years old. Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon at Pierce Brothers undertaking chapel. Burial at Forest Lawn.

MIRADERO LODGE K. OF P. MUSICAL AND BALL.

Miradero lodge announces a grand entertainment consisting of an attractive musical and variety program, followed by a grand ball, to be given at their hall on Brand boulevard, on the evening of March 17th. Among the artists who will participate are Miss Lotta Buisseret, violin; Miss Charlotte Powers, character artist; Miss Ethel Mitchell, cornetist; E. M. Bonnell and Otto Bayer.

DOGS.

Up to date since the law went into effect, Glendale has issued 131 dog licenses. Last Saturday, upon request of the owner, Mrs. M. G. Taylor, of Woods hotel, Marshall Miller shot a dog which showed symptoms of rabies. The animal was tied up for some time but got loose and created considerable excitement in the neighborhood until disposed of.
